Claudia Schmidt

Claudia,

To a really terrific Junior with a matching personality and sense of humor. Always remember 5° Music Theory and all our exchanges of goodies. Never forget charming (ugh) D.f.H.T. and our choruses. Best of luck always.

Social Studies

Team teaching was initiated this year to improve the social studies curriculum. Mr. Michael Nicoletti heads the team and is supported by Mr. Jack Hribar, Mr. Ronald Marec, Miss Lois Miller, and Mr. Milton Kronick.

Each member of the team lectures in his specialty fields. Lectures are generally held three times a week and are followed by one day of group discussion, in which students can receive individual aid. The remaining day is devoted to independent study on term topics.

West County Champions

For the first time in Brecksville High School's history the Bees' football squad went undefeated completing a perfect 10-0 season with an emotion-filled 20-6 victory over Berea. Coach Joe Vadini attributed the fine record to teamwork, a terrific spirit, and the leadership and example set by the twenty seniors on the squad. In winning the West County Title, the Bees placed a record nine boys on the All-County Team including center Pat Flanagan who was the only one to make it as a Junior also.

It will be a long time before any of us will forget those last moments of a victorious season as the goal post fell under the heavy hands of a group of deleriously happy, blurry-eyed CHAMPIONS.

That winning feeling.

Coached by Gerald Becker, this year's Basketball team compiled a respectable 13-5 regular season record. In capturing the League Crown for the 8th consecutive year, the Bees came up with important clutch victories over Cuyahoga Hts., Warrensville and Independence. Following last year's exceptionally "tall" team, this year's squad returned to "normal" as once again the Bees consistently battled taller opponents. Compensating for the lack of rebounds, the varsity successfully employed clever ball handling and accurate shooting to lead them to its championship.

Coach Ron Marec

This year, Brecksville's grappling team ended its regular season with an impressive 9-1 record, equaling the best season mark a Brecksville wrestling team has ever had. In compiling a 7-1 county dual meet record, the Bees' matmen became county league co-champs with last year's dual meet champion - Solon. In county tournament competition, the team, faced with numerous upsets in the earlier rounds, placed a strong second, with Dick McCoy leading the point earners with two pins and a first place. Lee Keenan, the winner of the Brecksville Christmas Tournament heavy-weight championship, placed second, as did John Barona and Mark Studley. Among the season's memorable highlights were the following: the Solon match which earned the Bees a share of the title, as almost everybody wrestled his finest match; the comeback victory against Chagrin Falls, which saw the light weights making it a little more "interesting" for the heavier boys; the day Coach Del Rosa sang "Happy Trails" to the gang; the day "Birdie" got burns; and what Senior will ever forget that last bus ride home from Kenston.

MEMORY EXPERT

"The Mind in Action" was the topic of the speech given by Mr. Orville G. Fitzgerald on December 10. In remembering things, the speaker did not employ associations, code words, or mental pictures. He based his method on psychology, philosophy, and common sense.

The Crowning

Becksville High's Senior Night was at the Warrensville game on February 8. And, as is tradition, a queen was crowned. However, a new element was introduced this year - both the basketball and the wrestling teams chose the queen. Out of the four nominees, Diane Kase was chosen as the first to reign as Winter Sports Queen. The crowning took place during half-time, and Student Council sponsored a dance after the game in honor of the queen and her court.

Lawrie Davidson, co-captain of the basketball squad, presented the corsages to the other three candidates.

Remember when we went to the Kon Tiki Room and that waiter made the crack about H.H. Then there was Lakeside: the swimming, Francie, and the talent assembly. You were were nice when you wrote to me in Europe. It really appreciated those cartas."

It know that this summer, we will have twice as much fun. By the way, did you know we're going to B'ville Day together!

Love,
Ginny

Claudia,
To my best, most wonderful friend I could ever have. Just think I have only one more day that I have to go and were all done. It seems like only yesterday that we were six sixth grade with "Babich". Do you realize that it's been almost six years since that day (I had a headstrip) but also a lot of fun getting grounded a lot. Remember B.A.S.C. Lots of Charlie I love Gloria

P.S. If you want to call me

Dedication

The Annual Staff dedicates the 1964 Beehive Supplement to Mrs. Nancy Leventry, our Senior Class advisor. We wish to express our appreciation for her assistance throughout our junior and senior years. Our various endeavors included the 1963 Junior Prom, the Christmas Formal, "Yes, We Have No Bananas,"--Class Night. Mrs. Leventry's guidance, however, was not limited to these projects. She was there at all times to lend her support. The 1964 Senior Class says a great big "Thank you!" to "Mom" Leventry.

Entering competition in the newly-formed Cuyahoga Conference, the Bees, after a slow start, won ten of their last eleven games and defeated Brooklyn on the final day of the season to capture second place - only one game off the pace.

The Bees won 15 and lost 5, an improvement on last year's 10-won-and-7-lost record.

The development, attitude, and sportsmanship displayed by the team was very gratifying to the coaching staff.

Golf

This year's golf team, still in its infancy, managed to garner four victories against stiff opposition. Although they were constantly in the "rough" and in the "traps," their prospects for the future are promising.

What the critics say about the 1964 annual:

"...probably the most enlightening and important historical document since the Team Syllabus I. Great Book!"
—M. Kronick, yearbook adviser

"This is the Best of All Possible Year-Books!"
— M. Kramer, yearbook editor

"Да! они превосходны! фотография особенно!"
— Ivan {Roby a} VeVerkavich Terabian, photography ed.

"Speechless!"
— Miss L. Miller

"The best supplement since Vitamin B_{12}."
— G. Maslanka, supplement editor

"We think it's enchanting!"
— B. Wagner, yearbook copyeditor {also a daemon queen}

"DARING! BOLD! THRILL-PACKED! This Wonderful best-seller — soon to be made — UNEXPURGATED — into an exciting movie — is the Greatest Thing since Elephant-Jokes. Loud hurroos for the Paperback Supplement. Very Arty: A FOUR-STAR MUST."
— Krudin, art editor

"I like elephant-jokes."
— C. Orley, business editor
